TAXI

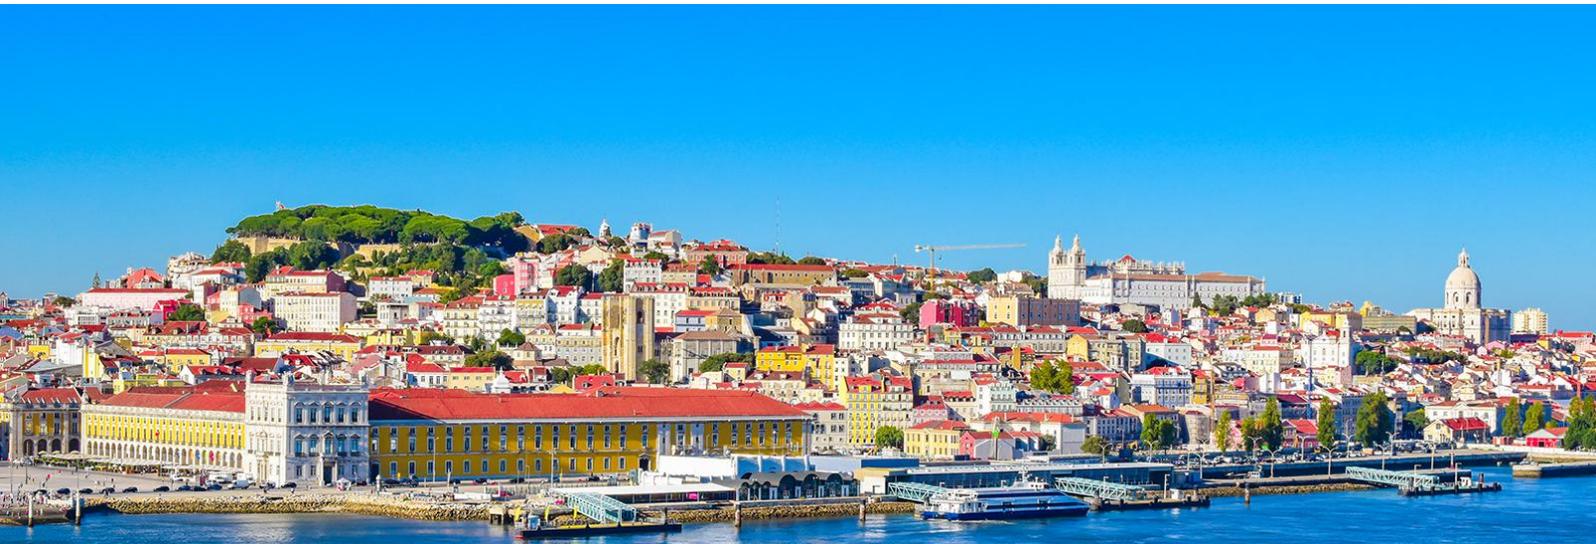

Lisbon has a good network of taxis. During the day fares start at a minimum 3,40 euros and at 3,90 euros at night. There are additional supplements for KM, booking, luggage, weekends and number of people seated. They are easily found anywhere in Lisbon. Nonetheless, please find some contacts to call a taxi at any time of the day:

- a. Teletaxis: +351 218 111 100;
- b. Cooptáxis: +351 217 932 756
- c. Retális Rádio Táxis: +351 218 119 000

UBER OR BOLT

Fares tend to be slightly lower than regular taxis, but note that if you call an Uber at the airport, the car cannot stop outside the arrivals terminal. It will stop here: Departures or Arrivals.

THE CITY OF LISBON

Lisbon is the capital city of Portugal and lies on the north bank of the Tagus estuary where it broadens to enter the Atlantic Ocean. Lisbon is Portugal's largest city and its cultural, administrative, commercial and industrial hub. The name comes from "Olissipo", which has its origins in the Phoenician words "Allis Ubbo", meaning "enchanted port". Built on seven hills overlooking the Tagus river, Lisbon is a historic capital where 800 years of cultural influences mingle with modern trends and life styles creating spectacular contrasts.

The international press highlights Lisbon as a dynamic and cosmopolitan city, with a warm climate all year round, where visitors can enjoy the colourful streets, the yellow trams that run along the cobblestone floors and explore historic monuments and museums.

Lisbon also has a vibrant night life and a rich musical culture, of which we highlight Fado, urban popular song of Portugal that was recognized by UNESCO as an Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity in 2011.
